

Some eggs

are not like others

Please hand this card to the restaurant owner / manager, your waiter, or leave it with your bill payment.

Dear Restaurant Owner / Manager,

Studies show a growing market for humane food as the public becomes aware of how animals suffer on factory farms. Fast food chains like Burger King and celebrity chefs like Jamie Oliver are switching to cage-free eggs and you can too.

I believe the production of eggs from hens confined in small, barren battery cages is one of the cruellest farming systems. Eggs don't have to be produced this way. Your restaurant can help change this by purchasing more eggs that come from hens that can nest, turn around and stretch their wings and promoting it widely.

As a regular customer at your restaurant, I encourage you to be a leader in farm animal welfare and adopt a humane & sustainable food policy. I look forward to your response. Thank you!

For more information, visit www.choosecagefree.ca

Name(s): _____

Address: _____

Email: _____

Other comments: _____